

Senior Software Developer (.NET)

Prevention at Sea is an LR ISO 9001 & 27001 multi-awarded marine risk assessment company that offers maritime services for quality assurance as well as maritime software products with the aim to ensure fleet management optimization and data-driven decision making via paperless ship logs/records and big data analytics.

Job Outline

We are currently seeking to recruit a Senior Software Developer (.NET) to join our company in Larnaca and will be focused on designing and developing software solutions for the Shipping Industry.

The successful candidate will work closely with the company's senior team to leverage their broad range of knowledge and skills in Shipping to design and develop a wide range of vital software solutions. The Senior Software Engineer will lead the project and undertake ownership of the project.

Duties & Responsibilities:

- Responsible for functional or technical leadership of the software projects, driving for excellence in team performance and in product design by the introduction of new technologies, processes and/or software development methodologies.
- Provide technical leadership for platform and application software as per company goals.
- Works on the design and development of platform and software application in broad level including the system level of products.
- Works within a disciplined product development process and invest time to identify the best practices so to achieve the defined targets.
- Assists in leading the technical supervision and project management of complex software projects/activities.

Qualifications & Requirements:

- Bachelor's degree in information technology and engineering or related.
- 5+ years of experience in Software development
- Excellent written and verbal communication skills are essential.
- 5+ years of professional experience with .NET Framework and .NET Core
- Experience with ASP.NET Core (MVC, Razor Pages, Web API)
- Knowledge of RESTful API design and integration
- Solid understanding of HTML, CSS, JavaScript
- Strong knowledge of SQL Server and writing complex queries, stored procedures, and performance tuning
- Experience with Entity Framework
- Proficient with Git and version control workflows
- Experience with Agile/Scrum methodologies

Nice to have:

- Experience working in enterprise-level applications or high-scale environments

A flexible and friendly work environment is offered, as well as job training to support your continuous learning and personal development through our internal training programs. New ideas, fresh perspective and feedback are always welcomed. The position offers an attractive compensation package including extra benefits.

For applications and/or additional clarifications on the job description, you may contact/send your CV to hr@preventionatsea.com